STREET CAR MEN STRIKE AT DETROIT

Conductors and Motormen Take Their Cars Back To the Barns

VOTE TAKEN DURING EARLY MORNING HOURS

TROUBLE OVER EMPLOYE

Who Had Been Discharged By the Company Caused the Walkout—Thousands of Factory Employees and Downtown Workmen, Compelled to Walk, Report Several Hours Late.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—Not a city street car was being operated in Detroit at 7 o'clock this forenoon, as the result of a strike called by the Detroit United Railway conductors and motormen because of the company's refusal to reinstate a motorman who had been discharged for alleged careless handling of his car. The strike vote was taken during the early morning hours and was practically unanimous.

Although the walkout had been threatened for 24 hours thousands of factory employees and downtown workmen who had depended on the street cars from one to three hours late in reporting to work.

No disorder was in evidence when the men took their cars to the barns on the final run. Extra squads of police were called out, however, and steps taken to quell any disturbance which might arise.

Early the D. U. R. officials refused to make any statement as to what action they would take. They declared, however, the men had violated terms of their working agreement with the company in that they had not first submitted their case for arbitration. The men on the other hand declared that the company had repeatedly violated its side of the working agreement and that while the case of the discharged motorman led directly to the strike, other factors, including unsatisfactory working conditions induced them to walk out.

Peter Whaling, the discharged motorman, is an officer in the local union of Street Railway Employees.

The vote was taken at a meeting of more than 1500 carmen, after several hours' discussion. Only about 85 negative ballots were cast.

Peter Whaling, the motorman in whose behalf the strike is taken, was discharged after his car jumped the track, April 23. The executive committee of the employees' union demanded his reinstatement, but the officers of the company declined to comply, claiming Whaling was too dangerous and reckless a man to handle a car. He had been in the service five years.

After the meeting the men declared Whaling's dismissal was not the only factor which impelled them to strike. Working conditions, they said, were unsatisfactory and they had failed in attempts to obtain relief from the company.

Decided Advantages Gained By British and French Troops Along the Gallipoli Peninsula

(Associated Press Telegram)

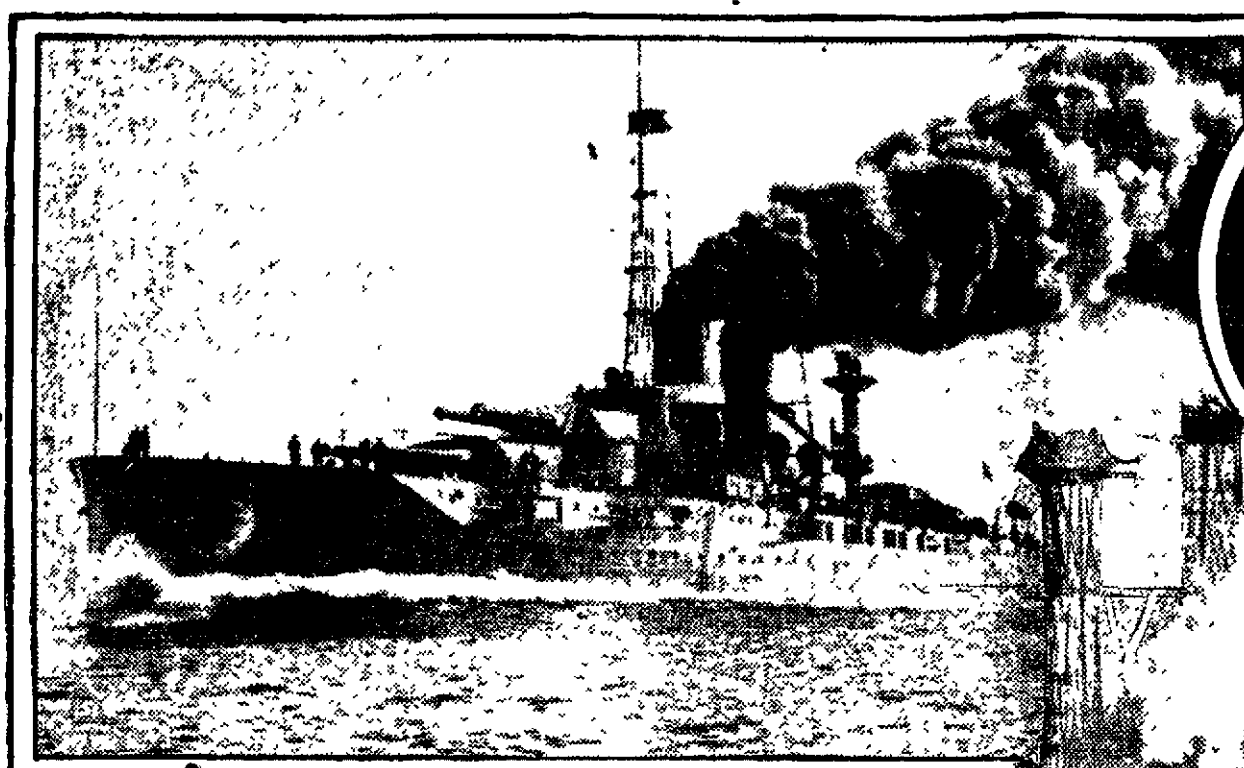

London, May 13.—London was cheered today by the publication of a dispatch from Athens, recording a decided advance of the British and French troops along the Gallipoli peninsula. Some reports even claimed the occupation of certain heights which would mean that the entire peninsula was under the control of the invaders.

At two points on the western line of operations offensive movements are under way. The first, initiated by the Germans is against the British, French and Belgian forces near Ypres, while the second is the pushing of French troops against the Germans to the north of Arras.

For the moment, however, both of these attacks would appear to have been checked.

Super-Dreadnought Texas

No battleship in the German navy equals either of these great super-dreadnoughts of the American navy, now assembled in the Hudson river. In fact, they are surpassed by no vessels in the world except the five recently turned out by the British admiralty, among which is the Elizabeth, now in the Dardanelles. They are only part of the fleet of sixteen battleships in the Hudson river. But the American navy has more, for there are the Pennsylvania, just launched, the Arizona about to be launched, and the California, in course of construction.

The Texas and the New York are of 27,000 tons displacement. Each carries ten 14-inch guns for her main battery, and twenty-one 5-inch rifles for protection against torpedo attack.

As an illustration of their rate of fire it is a matter of record that one of these pieces had three shells in air at the same time, one missile having whizzed through the target and still in flight, another cutting through the canvas screen just as the third shell was leaving the gun.

What the 14-inch gun can do was recently demonstrated by William Ruhl, one of the gun pointers on the Texas, who in the practice held off the Virginia Capes, broke the world's record, making six straight hits at a moving target being towed fourteen miles distant. Previously the Arkansas, sister ship to the Wyoming, had made six hits out of six shots from a 12-inch rifle in the incredibly short time of 57 seconds.

European War Conditions Frankly Discussed By Noted Hungarian Statesman, Count Albert Apponyi

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Budapest, Hungary, April 26.—Count Albert Apponyi, the veteran Hungarian opposition party leader, former minister and president of parliament, who is personally widely known in the United States because of his lecture tour of four years ago, has received the correspondent of the Associated Press and discussed frankly not only present war conditions in his country, but what the European struggle may bring forth. He is a thorough optimist.

"I see no reason why after this war some understanding of the western European powers should not come," he said.

"We in Austria and Hungary have no serious points of conflict with England and France. France after 1870 had to make an effort to regain her lost provinces from Germany, but she must now see that the attempt is hopeless. She has had the assistance of the strongest possible coalition which could be arranged to help her gain her desire and is farther than ever from success. It will be possible, I think, after the war to reconcile her to the loss by some concessions regarding the autonomy of Alsace Lorraine and

OPERATIONS OF RUSSIANS IN CARPATHIANS

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, May 13.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd gives the following official statement regarding Russian military operations:

"In the fighting between the Vistula and the Carpathians, May 8 and 9, the Germans planned to break our front by the lightning rapidity of the blow directed at the neighborhood of Krono by seven divisions of the flower of the German army after a heavy artillery preparation.

"On a general front of 40 miles the enemy gathered three-quarters of the Austrian army, one-ninth of the German army, the first reserve, half the contingents of the second reserve, besides eight divisions from the Serbian front, several new Austrian divisions and twenty infantry divisions as well as eight new divisions and nine cavalry divisions from the western front. Only one of our armies participated in the first attack.

"The Germans gained no tactical success. Our reserves, by a flank blow, enabled our army to re-arrange a line of advantageous positions eliminating all fear of final retreat. Our army has received strong reinforcements and is ready to exact heavy revenge. Our fighting back was carried out methodically. The enemy's loss was heavy.

"When our troops occupied the mountainous section which the enemy held today, the enemy's official communications declared these positions were of no importance."

FLEET AWAITS GRAND REVIEW BY PRESIDENT

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, May 13.—The setting of the great naval war game to be played somewhere off the Atlantic coast after the Atlantic fleet leaves here next Tuesday already has begun, while the defending fleet lies in the Hudson river awaiting the grand review by President Wilson next Monday. Four vessels of the auxiliary division which is to complete part of Rear Admiral Beatty's attacking fleet are now steaming toward an unexplained rendezvous at sea, having left here yesterday.

The mobilization of the Atlantic fleet here had been completed today by the arrival of three divisions of the torpedo flotilla.

THOUSANDS OF ITALIANS HAVE LEFT AUSTRIA

(Associated Press Telegram)

Udine, Italy, May 12.—Via Paris May 13.—Every preparation has been made for the proclamation of a state of siege in all the Austrian territory which borders on Italy. The government already is in the hands of the police and military.

Italians whose homes are in Austria have fled for safety across the frontier in great numbers. It is estimated that 40,000 have left Trieste alone, while the total will aggregate 120,000. Large contingents of Austrian troops are constantly arriving at Trieste and points in Gorz and Gradisca. It is asserted in military circles here that Austria has been quietly gathering this new army for possible operations against Italy.

At some points on the frontier, Austrian and Italian troops are in such close contact that they can see each other. The Austrians have occupied strongly fortified entrenchments. The bridge leading to Pontebona, just across the Italian frontier, has been mined as have the bridges across the Isonzo river. Trains and automobiles which cross these bridges are compelled to travel at a snail's pace. Many German officers are with the Austrian troops camped near Gorz and Trieste.

Wilson Note Now On Way To Germany

President Put Finishing Touches On Document This Forenoon—Demands Reparation for Violation of American Rights In the War Zone and Guarantee That Attacks On Merchantmen Carrying Non-Combatants Shall Cease

FIRM STAND IS TAKEN BY NATION'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Washington Government Will Spare No Pains to Obtain Acquiescence In Its Position—Note Will Be Made Public This Evening and Diplomats Are Especially Interested In Its Text and Are Prepared to Cable Same to Their Governments As Soon As Copies Can Be Obtained.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, May 13.—President Wilson, during the forenoon today, put the finishing touches on the note to be dispatched during the day to Germany, demanding guarantees that attacks on merchantmen carrying non-combatants shall end and for reparation for violations of American rights in the war zone.

The note will not be made public here until after it has been put in code which probably will be late today and when the document has been started on its way to Berlin.

Few changes are believed to have been made in the document, the main principles as outlined to the cabinet on Tuesday being maintained. While couched in friendly terms it is firm.

It does not say what steps will be taken or what course will be pursued in the event of an unfavorable reply, but indicates that the United States will spare no pains, either by diplomatic representations or otherwise to obtain an acquiescence in its position.

The text of the note was eagerly awaited by official Washington. The unofficial outlines published today increased the anxiety to learn the exact phraseology of the document. Diplomats were especially interested in the text which they were prepared to cable to their governments as a matter of information as soon as copies could be obtained.

It is known positively that the United States has had no conversations either in Washington or in the foreign capitals with other governments concerning the note or the course that will be pursued should Germany refuse to comply.

In some quarters friendly to Germany, the impression prevailed that the Berlin government would accede to the American demands and state its expectation that the United States would endeavor to secure the unrestricted passage of foodstuffs and conditional contraband consigned to the civilian population of Germany.

When the note is finally dispatched, to Ambassador Gerard a copy of it will be delivered here to

The police in many cities are now looking for Addison L. Rawlings, the Newark piano dealer, who is wanted here to answer the charge of forgery preferred by Secretary-Manager Bartlett of the Cincinnati Discount company.

While one or more friends may know the present whereabouts of Mr. Rawlings, so far as is generally known, he has not been seen by any Newark man since last Saturday night when he was seen in High street at Columbus. He left Newark just one week ago this morning.

A. L. RAWLINGS.

erly handled. There was to be sure an intimation of fraud in the proceedings but those in close touch with the situation did not feel that the irregularities, if any, would prove to be serious.

On Saturday morning a typewritten statement was found purporting to account for over $90,000 of losses due to poor investments, lawsuits and the payment of excessive discounts and rates of interest on Rawlings piano notes.

In the statement Rawlings said: "It was true I did things that I ought not to have done but the people gouged me so hard that I tried to get through but failed and I feel today that I did all any man could under the circumstances as I gave away more than I received. God forgive me if I have done a wrong."

In this long typewritten statement, Rawlings begged his boys never to enter the piano business and expressed his deepest love for his wife and children.

This statement was written March 27th and was found after Rawlings had left town last week. It is alleged that shortly after writing this statement, Rawlings attempted to take his own life but was prevented from carrying out the plan of suicide.

Not until R. J. Beaman, expert accountant of Cincinnati, had started upon the audit of the Rawlings paper did the real situation dawn and the extent of the alleged manipulation of accounts will not be known until the audit is completed. Mr. Beaman himself a large creditor asked yesterday afternoon to be relieved of the

As Addison L. Rawlings had been engaged in what appeared to be a very successful piano business here 10 years he had no trouble in disposing of large blocks of his piano notes to some of his friends. Harry Swisher, the retired cigar manufacturer, who is his largest creditor, is said to have had $130,000 or more of his paper at one time. This he accepted at 10 per cent discount and received 6 per cent interest for the loan. The petition for receivership was filed by Rollin Swisher as trustee for Harry Swisher.

The Daniel Thomas estate holds a block of the Rawlings piano notes, while two or three other citizens and several banks hold small amounts of this paper. One bank has $1,500 worth of Rawlings paper, another $3,110, another $3,500, and the fourth less than $4,000, all of which is said to be amply secured by mortgage notes that are good. It seems that the notes about which there is question of suspicion were sent to Cincinnati or Chicago or given to individuals. Rawlings appears to have protected the banks by giving ample security for the money he obtained from the banks.

On the other hand, Mr. Beaman of the Cincinnati Discount company, which is said to have $70,000 worth of Rawlings paper (400 piano notes) says that he has compared his notes with those held by Mr. Swisher and many duplicates have been discovered.

Mr. Northey, executor of Daniel Thomas' estate, reports that he holds notes on a number of people who can not be found and a Cincinnati man said yesterday that he had a note signed to have been signed by a person living at a certain number in West Main street and that examination showed there was no such person and that there was no such number in the street.

Some of the notes are said to be duplicates duly signed by the purchasers of pianos while others are declared to be positive forgeries.

The Hamilton Investment company of Chicago, represented by Jones & Jones, holds $15,000 worth of Rawlings notes and the claim is made that 90 per cent or more of that paper is fraudulent.

Addison L. Rawlings, a man 65 years of age, was not intemperate, not inclined to frivolity nor to speculation. He was regarded as a "home man." He was a good provider, he lived well, but not extravagantly. He did not play the markets so far as is known. What then became of the money? Those close to him declare that he has no money at the present time and that he left none behind.

Chief Sheridan has sent photographs and a description of Rawlings to every section of the country asking that he be placed under arrest to answer the charge of forgery.

The criminal action that has been started is a distressing feature of the case because of the suffering it will cause to innocent people.

The one cheerful feature of the entire proceeding is the fact that the local financial institutions hold a very small amount of the Rawlings paper and all of it is fully protected by collateral security that is good.

Investigations conducted indicate that the Daniel Thomas estate holds 53 notes turned over by Rawlings as security for loans and that these notes probably are worthless. These notes were supposed to have been signed by purchasers of pianos in Newark, Mt. Vernon and Utica. These towns were visited a few days ago and a personal inquiry made in an effort to locate the signers. Although the post office officials, bankers, grocers and business men were consulted, not one of the names was recognized as being residents of either of the places mentioned. It is also understood that Rawlings owes a couple of months' rent for the store room in North Park Place which he rented from the Thomas estate.

According to a statement made to the Advocate by one of the parties interested in the investigation of the Rawlings affairs, the notes in question are drawn in the usual form adopted by piano dealers when instruments are sold on the monthly payment plan.

If the purchase price of the instrument is $300 and the purchaser agrees to pay $10 a month, thirty separate notes of $10 each are drawn up and signed, each bearing a date of maturity for thirty consecutive months.

Security for the notes was in the form of a mortgage on the instrument sold. In some cases where fraud is alleged, notes drawn in this form, were sold or discounted, by Rawlings. In some cases the purchaser of the notes asked for this mortgage security but was informed that it was necessary for the mortgage to be filed or that it was retained by the seller of the instrument. Some cases have been found, it is claimed, where dummy mortgages were issued.

Magistrate D. M. Jones, who is said to hold some of the Rawlings paper, refused to make any statement other than that his investigation of the matter had not proceeded far enough yet to warrant him in talking of the matter. "I do not think it is the proper time to talk on this matter," he said.

WILL TELL STORY OF GREAT CONTEST FRIDAY EVENING

At First M. E. church Friday evening the people of Newark will have the privilege of hearing directly the story of the great contest for Sunday school attendance between the men's classes of the Athens and Lancaster Methodist Episcopal church schools. For ten weeks the contest has gone on. It ended Sunday with Lancaster as winner, although on the last Sunday the Athens class had about 200 more in attendance. The attendance in the Copland class No. 6, Athens, was 2,837, while Lancaster had over 2,800. The attendance in each school numbered nearly 4000 persons. Without doubt these two schools were the largest Sunday schools in America or in the world last Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Ellisworth has been an indefatigable worker through it all and has seen his class grow from 90 persons to nearly 3,000 men.

On Friday evening in the social rooms of the First M. E. church he will relate his experiences in building this, the largest Sunday school class in the world. The men of the city are cordially invited to come and hear him.

MORE BODIES FOUND TODAY BY SEARCHERS

QUEENSTOWN, May 14.—A nasty rain and a choppy sea interfered with the search today for bodies of the Lusitania's dead, but six more were found in the vicinity of Skull and several others under a life raft. These bodies were all placed on out going to be brought into Queenstown. C. Haddon Chambers, the playwright, arrived in Queenstown today to take to Liverpool the body of Charles Frohman. Then it will be shipped to the United States on Saturday aboard the steamship New York.

Webb Ware, secretary of Alfred G. Vanderbilt will remain at Cork so long as there appears to be any hope of recovering Mr. Vanderbilt's body.

The body of Mrs. Charles Plamondon of Chicago was found today among the dead brought to Queenstown yesterday. The body of her husband had been identified previously. Both were taken in charge by the American consulate and will be sent to Chicago.

All southern Ireland is greatly excited over the outcome of the voyage of the Anchor line steamer Transylvania, now nearing the war zone.

BARNES TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 13.—William Barnes today went upon the witness stand in the supreme court here to testify as a witness in his own behalf in his libel suit against Theodore Roosevelt. His counsel planned to have him answer allegations made by Colonel Roosevelt when he was on the stand and to give his version of several incidents.

When court opened, Alfred W. Towlesy of Toledo, vice president and general manager of the Ann Arbor railroad was called. He said he remembered seeing William Loh, Jr., and William Barnes in the office of J. S. Bache and company in New York. He said he was at the office for luncheon and that Mr. Loh and Mr. Barnes were at the table. This luncheon, he said, was sometime in 1912. Mr. Towlesy was excused after a short cross-examination.

Newman Erb, president of the Ann Arbor, and the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroads and an executive official of other railroads through the middle west, the next witness, also remembered meeting Mr. Loh and Mr. Barnes in the banking office of J. S. Bache and Co. He fixed the date as sometime after the election in 1912.

Mr. Loh in his testimony, swore that he met Mr. Barnes in the office mentioned in 1911, while the state legislature was deadlocked over the selection of a United States senator. Mr. Loh said he told Mr. Barnes he had heard of an "arrangement" with Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall and that in reply to a question Mr. Barnes said he could do nothing then to end the deadlock.

BRILLIANT SUCCESSES OF FRENCH

PARIS, May 13.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"We won brilliant successes Wednesday evening and Wednesday night to the north of Arras.

"At Notre Dame De Lorette we were masters of the fort, as well as of the chapel.

"In the vast quadrilateral of trenches and earthworks which is to the south of the Chapel of Notre Dame De Lorette we have been subjected to a very violent counter attack.

"A ferocious combat which lasted all night developed in this quadrilateral. In the morning we were complete masters of the situation, having inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy.

"During Wednesday night we also took by assault all of the village of Carency as well as the forest to the north of it, Hill No. 125. The German garrison stationed in this village and in this forest wood was composed of one battalion of the 109th regiment of infantry; one battalion of the 136th regiment of infantry; one battalion of Bavarian Chasseurs, and six companies of Pioneers, 300 men to a company.

"These forces had made of Carency and of Hill No. 125 in the forest a position of great strength. In spite of the fact that their numbers had been very much reduced by their losses in killed, wounded and prisoners on previous days, these forces during the entire night put up a desperate resistance to our attack delivered against a maze of trenches, blockhouses and narrow passages.

"We broke down this resistance of the enemy and at daybreak we were in complete masters of the situation. Our troops killed hundreds of Germans at the point of the bayonet. We made 1,050 prisoners, of whom 20 are officers. Included in these latter is a colonel and the commandant of the battalion of Chasseurs.

"At the southern exit of Souchez our positions were subjected yesterday to violent attack on the part of the enemy. Nevertheless, we retained them.

"At Neuville our attacks on the village itself and to the north of the village made perceptible progress. To the north of Neuville we took possession of trenches several hundred yards long and we occupied the road called the Highway Des Carrières, which runs from Neuville to Givenchy. In the village itself we occupied yesterday morning only the southern portion, the enemy still holding the center and the northern part. An attack delivered late in the afternoon resulted in our occupying house by house all the central portions of the village. The Germans were driven back to the extreme northern part where we are outflanking them. Our troops in this fighting gave admirable exhibitions of courage and tenacity.

"In the forest of Le Pretre we occupied yesterday a new line of German trenches."

TO DETERMINE THE SANITY OF EZRA NEWLON

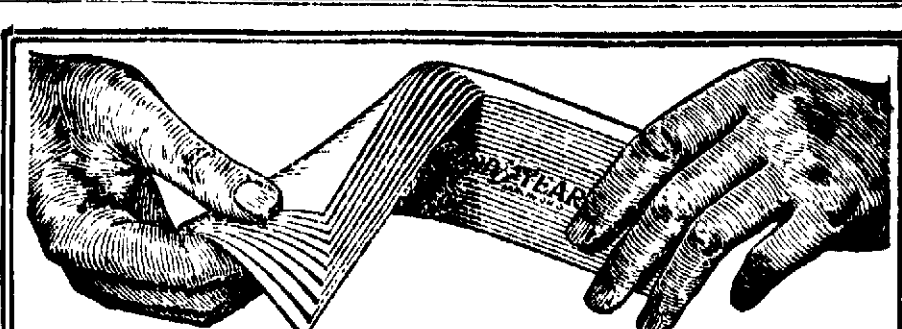

Dr. William Deuschle, a specialist of nervous affections, of Columbus, was called to Newark on Wednesday to consult with Dr. Homer J. Davis and Dr. C. F. Legge in the case of Ezra Newlon.

Newlon is a prisoner at the county jail, where he is charged with assault to kill, having struck Cary McMillen, who was acting as a deputy to the sheriff, when he attempted to arrest Newlon. McMillen narrowly escaped death and is partially paralyzed as a result of the assault. The consultation was held on Wednesday with a view of determining the mental condition of Newlon.

CHILD FOUND IN VICINITY OF BALL'S BLUFF

A Hungarian child, whose parents live in Beech street, was lost all day Wednesday and much interest was created in the neighborhood. Three small Hungarian children were out for a walk and were in Griffith's field, when several men sought to tease them and ran after them. The children became frightened and one little boy ran into the creek and was rescued with difficulty. One other, a little girl, could not be located and the search was continued until 10 o'clock Wednesday night, when the child was found wandering around on what is known as Ball's Bluff.

MARION SIGNS MANSFIELD STAR; CLUB IS STRONG

Marion, O., May 13.—Marion's lineup is practically clinched for the new Buckeye league club. Two more players, Catcher Cy Holden and Outfielder Barton were released when Hoz Breymeyer, vet backstop and Outfielders Thoma and Bonin put in an appearance. Pitcher Al Leake who starred with the Charleston, Ohio State league team the last two years and twirler Red Hart of the Lexington, Ky., club arrived today and started to grind with the rest of the bunch. Breymeyer, catcher, Neer on first, McGonigal at second, Manager Wetzel at third and Price, a local boy in right field, are almost certain of their positions. Others are trying out. The final line-up will be announced the latter part of this week, probably before the exhibition game on Saturday with the Bates Pirates of Columbus and on Sunday with the Korn Matters of the capital city.

Manager Wetzel is putting his crowd through two hard grinds daily and the boys seem to like it. They are all working with a vim to climb on the regular carriage. A meeting of a committee from the Chamber of Commerce is to meet Friday night with the local club officials to make arrangements for closing up the town, Friday afternoon, May 21, when Newark will be here for a clash. As at several other places, a parade will likely be featured with the city officers taking an active part at the recently improved ball park. Booster tickets for the opening game are being gobbled up in great shape and big crowds are expected to be on hand for the two exhibition games, Saturday and Sunday.

PHILADELPHIA'S POLICE CHIEF LAUDS TRAPSHOOTING

By Supt. James B. Robinson. Aside from the recreative aspect of trapshooting, the game has practical value because of the self-discipline a man undergoes in mastering the many phases of the art of shooting the elusive little targets.

JAMES B. ROBINSON,
Superintendent of Philadelphia Police.

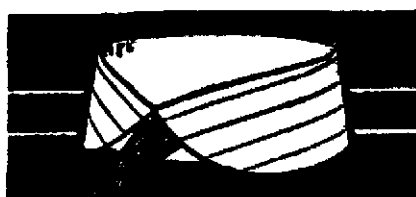

The shooter who would attain a high degree of proficiency in trapshooting must keep in physical trim equal to that of the successful competitor in any other sport. I know of no other game where steady nerves and quick judgment are so necessary. On the other hand, no game is so well adapted to the development of steel nerves and accurate snap judgment.

Being primarily an outdoor sport, trapshooting shares with golf, etc., healthful activity in the open. In a measure, trapshooting is of a military nature. The training in handling and care of firearms, which some half-million citizens of the United States are receiving in more or less regular practice at trapshooting clubs, would, no doubt, in case of war, be of inestimable value in defensive operations. Of course, this phase of the game is incidental, but it is one of the features that raise trapshooting above the plane of some other sports.

The men seen on the firing line at the traps are the red-blooded type, and true sportsmanship is always the rule whether skill is rewarded with a straight run or luck breaks bad for the shooter.

WORLD'S PITCHING RECORD WAS MADE BY URBAN FABER.

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, May 13.—A world's pitching record was claimed today for Urban Faber of the Chicago Americans, as a result of his performance in defeating the Washington club 4 to 1 here yesterday. According to baseball experts, Faber pitched only 67 balls during the nine innings, five less than the record established by Christy Mathewson of the New York Nationals several years ago. Frank Saffell, who operates an electric score board in Washington, D. C., telegraphed that the board recorded all strikes and balls and that his record, showing that Faber pitched 50 strikes and 17 balls, was correct. In the record Saffell counted as strikes any ball that was hit by the batter.

In the third and fifth innings Faber retired six men on six pitched balls, each batter hitting the first ball for an out.

WINNER OF FREE SEASON TICKET NAMED FRIDAY

The winner of the season ticket offered by Manager Wreath and The Advocate, for the best suggestion for the Newark club's nickname, will be announced in Friday's edition of The Advocate. The contest closed at midnight Wednesday. Replies which were left at this office last night or were mailed in the postoffice and bore Wednesday's date, were included in the contest. A large number of these were received this morning.

Today the suggestions were all numbered in the order in which they were received. A typewritten list of the suggestions, bearing the name of the person submitting the suggestion together with the serial number appearing on the coupon, was made. The names on the coupons will be cut off, only the suggestions and the serial numbers going to the judges. In this way those submitting answers may know that no partially submitted answers.

In a number of cases, contestants submitted more than one answer. Consideration of all these answers would be unfair to those fans who submitted but one, so in such cases, but one coupon was included with the bunch sent to the judges.

This paper is gratified with the interest taken by the fans in the contest, which reflects the interest which is being taken by the fans in the club which will represent Newark in the new Buckeye league. It assures the success of the local club if anything like a good brand of baseball is presented to the fans.

Watch the Advocate for the name of the winner.

FOREIGN ORDER IS IN SIGHT FOR BLAIR TRUCK

The friends of The Blair Motor Truck Company have always believed that it would become one of Newark's most successful and profitable industries, and every day developments increase that confidence.

The efficient and resourceful management in charge of the enterprise is rapidly putting the plant in shape to handle the large business that is in sight.

Inquiry on a foreign order for five hundred trucks was submitted on Wednesday, and The Blair Motor Truck company is in excellent condition to secure this and other similar orders because of the prejudice abroad against chain driven trucks. Messrs. R. C. Hanford and Chas. A. Smith, report favorably on their recent trip to the National Motor Truck convention, in Detroit.

The trend of feeling in motor truck circles is especially optimistic at the present time, as sales are showing a decided increase, due to the fact that so many new phases of heavy hauling are being replaced by truck service.

Due to this great increase in sales, the consensus of opinion is that there are few industries with a brighter outlook.

Of particular note was the fact that quite a number of the larger manufacturers announced their intention of putting out a line of worm driven trucks, due to the fact that a great number of recent inquiries specify worm drive. As the "Blair" people have made their specialty worm driven trucks, this announcement is particularly gratifying.

CLAY TARGET SHOOTING

The Ideal Sport For Business and Professional Men.

By C. H. Newcomb, Leading Pennsylvania Amateur. For me to say anything about trapshooting lays me open to suspicion of bias as in the case of a certain Pennsylvania judge before whom a chicken thief was about to be tried.

The prisoner protested on the ground that his honor would be prejudiced. When pressed by the lawyer assigned to defend the accused for an explanation, the man said: "Well, boss, it's this way, I've been up before that judge three times for doing the same kind of thing, and I'm afraid that he might be a bit prejudiced."

But, even at the risk of being placed under suspicion of letting enthusiasm bias my view, I repeat that there is no sport that compares with the trap game as a recreation for the business or professional man. Every factor of clay-bird shooting seems peculiarly adapted to the requirements of this class.

To begin with, anybody with eyesight or not otherwise physically unfit can acquire some degree of ability; shooting can be indulged in during all seasons of the year; it is a game for the individual; it is purely amateur; trapshooting grounds are within easy access of the business section of nearly every city; the amount of shooting he will do is left entirely to the shooter; a visit to a club and participation in the sport is regulated as to time—an hour or day—by the shooter alone; it takes one's mind off all other affairs for the time being; it is an outdoor game; the handling of a shotgun during a shoot affords exercise without over-exertion. In short, there are a thousand and one reasons why a man burdened with business or professional affairs should seek relief in more or less regular attendance at a gun club.

The man who feels the world owes him a living generally has to pay to collect it.

MORRIS CASE IS FOR HEARING ON FRIDAY MORNING

Charles Morris, who yesterday attacked W. S. Wright, president and general manager of the Jewett Car Company, will be given a hearing before Mayor R. C. Bigbee Friday morning. The affidavits filed against Morris, who was sworn to before Mayor Bigbee who issued the warrants on which Morris is being held. The affidavits charge Morris with shooting with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons. He is still confined to the city prison.

Late Wednesday, W. B. Wingerter, who was close to Mr. Wright when Morris fired three shots at the man, discovered that one of the bullets had passed through his left coat sleeve above the elbow. While Mr. Wingerter realized at the time that he was close to the line of fire, he did not know that one of the missiles from the weapon passed so close to his person. He is much gratified with his escape from injury.

Second Performance of "Pirates of Penzance" Again Pits Recital
Hall to Overflowing.

[Special to The Advocate]

Granville, O., May 12.—There were about three hundred callers yesterday afternoon at the reception given at the Austin residence in Elm street. Beautiful flowers graced all the rooms. The dining room was a symphony of color, being decorated in green and white, the tables centered with a magnificent floral basket of lilies of the valley, bridal wreath, maiden hair ferns, with the handle trimmed with asparagus fern. The only light in this room was that of candles, hooded in green. In the hall the punch bowl was presided over by three little girls, Helen Evans, Edith Conrad, and Helen Beene. Katherine Rohrer and Robert Williamson attended the door. In the receiving line were the hostesses, Mrs. L. A. Austin, Mrs. R. D. Williamson, Mrs. G. H. Reeco, assisted by Mrs. E. D. Barnes. Assisting the hostesses were: Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mrs. A. P. Nichol, Mrs. J. W. Rohrer, Mrs. August Odebrocht, Miss Fannie J. Farrar, Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain, Mrs. W. J. Taylor of Columbus and Mrs. Emswiler. In the dining room, during the different hours, were Misses Margaret Colwell, Helen Ray, Florence and Frances Carney, Alioret Chrysler and Dorothy McCann. Among out of town guests were Mrs. Lulu Jackson Climer of Cleveland, Mrs. Charles Montgomery, Mrs. Merrill Montgomery, Miss Clara Davies, Mrs. D. M. Black, Mrs. Grove Montgomery and Miss Stevens of Newark, Miss Sue Little of Abilene, Kansas, Mrs. Arthur Baldwin of Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. J. C. Campbell of Columbus and Granville.

Miss Blanche La Ferre was hostess at a delightful function yesterday afternoon, planned for the pleasure of her houseguest, Mrs. Lulu Jackson Climer of Cleveland, who once resided in Granville and who received old acquaintances and new with charming cordiality. Assisting the hostesses were Miss Mabel Jones and Miss Imogene Humblen.

Dean Eschman and the entire cast of the "Pirates of Penzance" have reason to feel proud of the successful conclusion of the presentation of this old Gilbert and Sullivan favorite, for the second time last night. Recital Hall was well filled with an audience who appreciated every note of the music and every line of the comedy, and who inspired the performers to their best efforts by the tumultuous applause. Indeed last night's presentation was better in many ways than was that of Tuesday evening, though the director, and he alone, was conscious of a few lapses. Livingston was in better voice and better form, and received an ovation as "Pirate King." The "make-up artist," Prof. V. H. Hoppe, had been given a free land on the countenances of the pirates and policemen, and the result rejoiced his soul, for a more alarming appearing group of villains have seldom been seen on any stage. Williams, too, as "Frederick" scored another triumph, his voice, both in solo and part singing, having an appealing quality, which never fails to reach his audience. Athey was one of the stars, and interpreted a difficult role with distinguished success. His solo as the "Major General," in the ruined old chapel of his castle at dead of night, was given with only the light of the single candle he carried. The closing verse was of local interest, referring to the recent Sophomore-Freshman scrap in which so many of the belligerents, like Samson of old, were shorn of their glory. The candle, held at the proper level, disclosed the well-clipped cranium of the singer, at which there was an audible smile. Curtis, as "Samuel," poured many of the "jokes," and helped along the action. The entrance of Kenneth Ullman as sergeant of police, again brought down the house with a crash. The squad also received their share of the tribute—and most cordial relations were at once established between audience and performers—for the comedy was not the only enjoyable feature of the scene. The music sang, and sang well, the rhythmic "Ta-ra-n-ta-ra," and made their exit to the sound of delightful applause. Mrs. Austin, as "Mabel," was at her best, luxuriantly gowned in pink chiffon, her presence on the stage was a pleasure to the eye as well as to the ear, and she received the heartiest recognition for her artistic interpretation of the part. Miss Alioret Chrysler as the nurse maid "Ruth," but repeated her success of Tuesday evening, receiving a curtain call and an armful of American Beauty roses. Misses Elizabeth Porter, Lois Lockhart, and Florence Stacey, sang their solos in charming manner, and the grand finale with all the performers on the stage, was sung with such spirit and volume as to elicit a curtain call.

The next musical offering on the Music Course will be the "Stabat Mater" by the Engwerson chorus next week. The course will close with the four concerts of the Spring Festival. Every one should hear "Samson and Delilah" which never before has been given in Granville. Miss Elsa Hirschberg-Lyon of Newark, recently returned from a successful operatic experience in Germany, will sing the part of "Delilah." Single or course tickets may be had at Ullman's.

Miss Bertha Frank gave a most delightful dinner party on Tuesday evening at her home in Centerville street, complimenting her classmate, Miss Virginia Putnam, whose engagement to Mr. Charles Reed has been announced. The affair was in the nature of a linen shower for the bride-to-be, twenty-five Sheperdson college girls responding to the invitation. The house throughout was a bower of fragrant bloom, all in white and green, masses of white lilac, and artistic branches of dogwood were effectively arranged. On the entrance of the honor guest, she was literally showered with gifts, all of which were examined by her and displayed to the company. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received, which attest the popularity of the recipient. During the afternoon a delightful musical program was given by several girls of the Sheperdson Glee club, and an appetizing lunch was served. Miss Putnam is a member of the Denison class of '15, former president of the Sheperdson Y. W. C. A. Mr. Reed belongs to the Kappa Sigma fraternity, of the class of '12. Assisting the hostesses were Misses Dorothy McCann, Dorothy Lapp, and Nellie Flory. Miss Ethel Southard of Newark was present from out of town.

Yesterday occurred the annual student election of the May Queen, which resulted in the selection of Miss Dorothy McCann as Queen, with Miss Hazel Bolin and Miss Virginia Putnam tied for second choice. Miss McCann will be crowned on carnival day, and will thereafter preside at the meet, conferring the prizes on the winners. Misses Bolin and Putnam will escort her as maids of honor.

Miss Dorothy Swartz returned home yesterday afternoon from her winter's sojourn in Vevay, Indiana, where she successfully filled the position of supervisor of music in the public schools.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulisified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulisified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

COCK FIGHT IS STOPPED BY SHERIFF

A number of well known Newark men who left the city Wednesday evening on a little pleasure jaunt, have returned at various times today from various directions, their quest for pleasure having ended abruptly just about the time it was to be realized. The blame for blocking the pleasure plans of the Newark party, which were also the plans of some 300 others, rests upon Sheriff John M. Wollison of Knox county. The sheriff appeared as an uninvited guest at a cocking main at a point between Brandon and Bangs in Knox county, and his appearance was the signal for a concerted dash on the part of the 300 sports for the exits.

Some 70 automobiles parked near the barn barked huskily as their owners cranked them hastily and for a few moments great clouds of dust covered the rapidly disappearing machines as they violated all speed regulations. No arrests were made. The sheriff would have needed a small army of deputies to have surrounded the men and taken them into custody and the transportation of such a large number of prisoners, to say nothing of providing sustenance for them in the new Mt. Vernon county jail, was a task he didn't care to assume.

He secured enough information to fill a book, he told Mt. Vernon newspaper men and until he has had time to arrange the data and prepare affidavits, no arrests will be made. The tip to the sheriff was given by farmers residing near Hunt station. Wednesday afternoon a B. & O. train unloaded more than a wagon load of game birds at Hunt. The farmers watched the disposition of the birds and telephoned the information to the sheriff. A quiet automobile trip was the result.

Upon reaching the barn where the main was in progress, he found the place a blaze of bright lights like Broadway. Inside the barn where the sports were assembled, two hironomous games were in progress and two birds had just been placed in the pit.

Being in citizen's clothes and the promoters of the main not having placed any restrictions on the attendance, the officer's entrance was not noticed. He was taken for another "sport" and was welcomed as any other individual who might love this old fashioned sport of kings.

Approaching the cock-pit he demanded that the fight be stopped "in the name of the law." The sheriff is a strapping big fellow, and his air of authority left nothing to be doubted by the sports. They took him at his word and there was a scramble for the open air.

Every aperture in the big barn large enough to permit the passage of a man's body, was instantly filled. If some of the number had been found suffering from small pox or bubonic plague, the exodus could have been no more precipitate. A moment later, the officer and his deputy were alone in the barn with the gambling device and the chickens.

On the outside the panic continued. Of course many of the automobiles took this opportunity to "back" and many of them refused to start promptly. One man in his haste to start his engine, suffered a fractured arm. Another man, who had removed a cork leg, to rest his tired "stump," departed so hastily that he left the artificial portion of his extremities. A Newark man made such good time in getting away that he ran out from under his hat. An automobile driver, losing his way in the excitement, instead of driving to the road, took a gate which led him into a ploughed field and not having time to turn on his lights, he ran into a board fence before he got his bearings. The fence gave way and he continued his aimless wandering until he found the road.

The sheriff's investigation gave him the names of sports from Newark, Mt. Vernon, Mansfield, Columbus, Cleveland, Akron, Crestline and numerous other towns in Central Ohio. Mt. Vernon people have known for several days that a main was to be pulled off some place in the vicinity. Express companies there have handled dozens of fighting cocks but until the tip was received from the farmers around Hunt, no direct information was secured by the officers as to its location.

The Newark men have little to say regarding their experiences. Indeed some of them had not shown up at noon today. They are expected hourly to turn up, footsore and hungry. It is said that the sheriff's appearance at the early hour, stopped the progress of the fight before it was fairly started.

STRUCK BY B. & O. ENGINE NEAR BUTLER

E. S. Bulger, 35 years old, a resident of Barnesville, O., was run down by B. & O. Train No. 12 at 6:20 p. m. Wednesday, a half mile west of Butler, and so severely injured that he died three hours later, in the establishment of the Butler undertaker.

Bulger, according to reports given out at the B. & O. Superintendent's office here in Newark, was a trespasser. He was not seen upon the track until it was too late to stop the train. Conductor Dan Carl and Engineer John Higgins were in charge of the train.

Bulger's wife and mother, both of Barnesville, passed through Newark early today, enroute to Butler. According to reports, Bulger has a brother employed in a lica glass house.

GERMAN VESSELS BEING SEARCHED BY GOVERNMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, May 12.—The seventy customs inspectors who visited the German vessels lying at dock in Hoboken yesterday continued their work today. After completing the search of vessels in Hoboken it was said they would go to the German docks in Brooklyn and thereafter complete the search by visiting every other German and Austrian ship in port.

It was understood that the search was being made on orders received from Washington.

Chicago Grain.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Chicago, May 12.—Wheat: Weakness shown itself today in the wheat market here. Lower quotations at Liverpool appeared to be the cause of a considerable extent. Belief that crop damage from Hessian fly had been overdone was generally referred to as the chief underlying influence on both sides of the Atlantic. After opening 14 cents to 24 cents down, the market rallied and remained well under last night's level. Fearful Argentina reports acted as a weight on corn. The corn market was also affected by the setback in wheat. Opening prices which ranged from 35¢ to 40¢ cent lower, were followed by something of a recovery. Oats displayed relative firmness as compared with other grains. The only selling pressure on oats was from pit speculators. Higher prices for hogs lifted provisions at the start. The market, however, soon turned easy with cereals.

WHAT IS JAPAN IN CHINA, NEW

Ages Old Ambition of Islanders to Rule All Asia May Now Be Behind Sudden Move For Coercion.

MEANING TO DO WORLD PROBLEM

Despite Denials, the Japanese Demands Are Thought to Endanger Principle of "Open Door."

WHAT does Japan intend to do with China? Everywhere this question is being asked to-day—even in the war trenches in Europe.

In the midst of one vast appalling conflict, in which practically all the European nations are fighting for their lives, suddenly have sprung up possibilities that may mean almost as much for the future of the world. At the moment none can tell whether or to what the situation may lead.

America is interested in this problem even more than in the war in Europe. Does Japan, either by arms or by the greatest diplomatic stroke accomplished in this age, purpose to conquer China or so bring her under Japanese influence and control that she is virtually conquered? Whatever the intention, the interests of the United States may be vitally concerned.

Japan has declared in the most solemn manner through the mouths of her statesmen that she is not going to close the "open door" in China and is not going to meddle with, let alone destroy the territorial integrity of the Chinese empire.

Kato Gives Assurances.
Baron Kato, Japanese minister of foreign affairs, said so in his historic speech in the diet Dec. 9 last. Count

TYPE OF CHINESE SOLDIER.

Okuma, the premier, said the same thing Feb. 27 this year.
"As premier of Japan," he said, "I have stated and now I again state to the people of America and of the world that Japan has no ulterior motive, no desire, to secure more territory, no thought of depriving China or other people of anything which they now possess. My government and my people have given their word and their pledge, which will be as honestly kept as Japan always keeps promises."

Emphatic assurances to this effect have been given to Washington and London.
By its preamble the Anglo-Japanese treaty of July 13, 1911, declares one of the objects of the alliance between Great Britain and Japan to be "the preservation of the common interests of all the powers in China by insuring the independence and the integrity of the Chinese empire and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China."

In the Root-Takahira agreement Japan makes these same pledges to the United States.

But there are now some who fear that the acts of Japan toward China do not altogether tally either with the spoken explanations of her statesmen or her treaty pledges. It is felt that she is taking advantage of the fact that great, helpless, peace-loving China lies at her mercy because all the powers in Europe are too tied up in defending themselves to think of defending her.

Japan Uses Diplomacy.

Soon after the Japanese had captured Kiauchau from the Germans Tokyo announced that negotiations had been begun at Peking "to determine the future status of Japanese relations with China and to decide certain questions concerning the future development of the Chinese republic." Japan notified the foreign legations, but mentioned only eleven of her twenty-one demands.

It had been understood from the wording of the Japanese ultimatum to Germany that Japan would restore Kiauchau to China. It was then understood that the Japanese negotiations with Peking were merely preliminary to the restoration to China of that section of Shantung province which had been held by the Germans.

But China protested that the demands made upon her infringed upon her sovereignty and conflicted with treaties existing between her and other powers. When eventually China succeeded in getting the whole text of the Japanese demands published in full it was seen that the situation was fraught with the utmost gravity despite their opening statement that they were "designed to preserve peace in the far east and to strengthen the friendly relations of the two countries."

To understand the situation one must go back to the days of the peace conference at Portsmouth, N. H., which ended the Russo-Japanese war ten years ago. All unknown to President Roosevelt Japan then laid the foundations for the great diplomatic strokes which, it is believed, she had already planned to play when Europe would be involved in the great war that Komura already foresaw would come.

Secret Pact at Portsmouth.

At Portsmouth Japan and Russia came to a secret agreement for the recognition and joint enjoyment of each other's "special rights" in China. This was Komura's work. The result was Japan's gradual expansion in Manchuria and eastern Mongolia. Not until 1908 did the secret arrangement become known to Washington. Secretary Root fought against it in vain, and the following year Secretary Knox also made heroic but futile efforts against it.

The greater part of the demands now made upon China by Japan merely further increase the Japanese special interests in Manchuria and east Mongolia and extend them to Shantung.

As to Shantung, China is asked to transfer to Japan all the rights Germany had in that province, not to make any more leases there to other countries, to open the principal cities to trade and to let Japan construct a railroad.

As to Manchuria and Mongolia China is asked to extend the lease of Port Arthur and its railroads to ninety-nine years, to let Japanese citizens trade, rent and own land and work mines and factories in those provinces. China is also to agree to obtain the consent of Japan before letting anybody except the Japanese build railroads in, make loans on, or give advice as to those provinces. She is also to give Japan, but no other foreigners, joint share in the proposed Hanyehping mine and iron foundry company.

Further, China is to consent not to alienate or lease to any other country than Japan any port, harbor or island on the Chinese coast.

To all these demands Yuan Shi Kai, president of the Chinese republic, has practically consented; but he has rejected those in the already famous "Article V," and when its nature became known in Peking only the great influence of Yuan Shi Kai held the people in check from demonstrations demanding war.

Demands in Article 5.

A translation of Article V, follows:
1.—The Chinese central government shall employ influential Japanese as advisers in political, financial and military affairs.

2.—Japanese hospitals, churches and schools in the interior of China shall be granted the right of owning land.

3.—Inasmuch as the Japanese government and the Chinese government have had many cases of dispute between Japanese and Chinese police to settle, cases which caused no little misunderstanding, it is for this reason necessary that the police departments of important places (in China) shall be jointly administered by Japanese and Chinese or that the police departments of these places shall employ numerous Japanese, so that they may at the same time help to plan for the improvement of the Chinese police service.

4.—China shall purchase from Japan a fixed amount of munitions of war (say 50 per cent or more of what is needed by the Chinese government) or that there shall be established in China a Sino-Japanese jointly worked arsenal. Japanese technical experts are to be employed and Japanese material to be purchased.

5.—China agrees to grant to Japan the right of constructing a railway connecting Wuchang with Kiukiang and Nanchang, another line between Nanchang and Hangchow, and another between Nanchang and Chaochow.

6.—If China needs foreign capital to work mines, build railways and construct harbor works (including dockyard) in the province of Fukien, Japan shall be first consulted.

7.—China agrees that Japanese subjects shall have the right to propagate Buddhism in China.

As to section 5 China said she could not because she had already given England the right to build the railroad. As to the Fukien works, referred to in section 6, she was equally tied up, having given a $20,000,000 contract to Americans.

From the first the Chinese declared that they had no desire for war, but might be forced into it. To guard the winter palace at Peking, where Yuan Shi Kai lives, 100,000 troops were massed, but they were given only enough ammunition for a brief resistance and were intended simply. It was said, to prevent such a coup as that by which the Japanese seized King Li of Korea.

"If it be said that Japan desires to destroy China as an independent nation," says Liang Chi-chiao, the Chinese minister of justice, "I do not believe she would attempt to commit such a colossal blunder. There is no parallel between China and Korea. Should Japan seek to conquer China by force she might succeed in holding China in temporary chancery on account of our temporary inferiority in arms. But a small thing like a wasp carries a sting in its tail, and is there nothing in an empire? To rule a people of alien race is not so easily done as said.

"She must first destroy our national essentials and the national spirit handed down to us these thousands of years and then impart to us those belonging to herself. But is this possible? Force of arms may keep us in subjection for a short period, but there is no need to worry. Any nation that would try to destroy us would witness its own destruction after a few decades."

Japan has in her army a war strength of 1,400,000 men, with a total of 7,021,780 available, all trained and among the best and most daring fighters the world has ever seen. Her war organization is at least equal to that of Germany. Some think it even superior. Her navy stands fourth on the list of the world's most powerful navies.

Vast Nation Has No Remedy.

China has a small peace army, and her war strength is estimated at 690,000 men. But only a portion of the army is armed or well trained, and as compared with Japan she might almost be said to have no army, just as she has practically no navy. But in available and eventual war strength which the giant of peace could put in the field, if forced to it and given time, China has 41,420,000 able men.

In her navy Japan has nine new battleships, built since the war with Russia; thirteen older battleships, five battleship cruisers and thirty other cruisers. Against that immense array of force China has but seven second class and one third class cruisers. In addition, Japan has five gunboats, sixty destroyers, thirty-seven torpedo boats and fifteen submarines. Against these China has two gunboats and ten torpedo boats. Japan has an active naval list of 47,289 officers and men, with 114,000 men in the reserve. China's naval list is an unknown quantity and in any case could take no part in war with Japan.

Count Okuma in his message to the American people on April 3 said:

"When the negotiations are disclosed it will be found that Japan has adhered strictly to the principle of equal opportunity."

But the Japanese premier was not referring to the relative strengths of China and Japan in the way of trained and armed fighting men.

For centuries Japan's ambition has been held to be to reign supreme in the far east. "Asia for the Asiatics" is the slogan of the most powerful Japanese secret societies.

This ambition is as old as the time of the Empress Jingo, who nearly 2,000 years ago attempted to establish the supremacy of Japan. Her brilliant victories in Korea are still the delight of the Japanese schoolboy. Though the empress did not succeed in retaining her hold on the peninsula, the policy was never abandoned. In the sixteenth century it was renewed with great vigor, when Hideyoshi, the Napoleon of Japan, sent a vast army to Korea.

Through three centuries this ambition lay dormant, but now it is an obsession with a large part of the island people. Japan does not regard her policy as in any way a menace to other nations. It is the result of her natural expansion and she believes it essential to the security of her dominions from western aggression.

China of Old Is Gone.

But the China of today is hardly the China that Japan defeated so easily in 1895. Within less than a score of years China has entered upon a course of progress without an equal in the history of the world, Japan's magnificent record of the past fifty years included. Customs stereotyped by thousands of years of observance have been abandoned.

The revenues have increased beyond the most sanguine expectations. Several high officials have been convicted of graft and have been executed. To the surprise of the world in 1914, notwithstanding the diminished revenues due to the European war and without foreign aid, China paid all her obligations for foreign loans and indemnities and besides raised a domestic loan of $24,000,000, a result which would have been an impossibility in any other period of Chinese history.

It may be that, as friends of the Japanese claim, Japan merely wishes to do for China what under the guidance of Henry W. Denison, their American adviser, Japan did for herself. But Denison was not forced on Japan.

Some people wear eyeglasses just for the looks of the thing.

TO PROTECT THE GERMANS IN ENGLAND

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, May 13.—Scotland Yard today issued an emergency call for all special constables to report immediately for duty. This would appear to be the only precautionary measure taken by the authorities this morning for the protection of Germans in England.

For the moment the anti-German rioting and attacks in the poor quarters of London and Liverpool, as well as in Manchester, Birkenhead, Glasgow, South End and elsewhere would appear to have ceased.

Although the atmosphere is still highly charged with excitement, a survey of the districts of London which yesterday were hotbeds of anti-German outbreaks showed almost a complete lull in the rioting this morning. Germans everywhere remained in seclusion and their shops were shuttered, with police on guard.

An exception to the generally peaceful conditions was a Kentish town where two German shops were looted early in the day. The police soon ended the disturbances.

Anti-German feeling in the Goldthorpe mining district in Yorkshire led to violent scenes during the night. Revolvers were used and four men sustained injuries. The police had to charge the crowd and had great difficulty in keeping the infuriated miners in check.

The enthusiasm of the anti-Germans was evidenced this afternoon at Tower Hill when 100 Black-coated stock brokers, merchants and city men, supported by thousands of the general public, stood in a drenching rain and wildly cheered speeches calling for the internment of Germans.

The following resolution was then adopted:

"Thousands of citizens of London gathered together at a mass meeting unanimously protest against any kind or kin of German. mutilators, poisoners and murderers of men, women and children being any longer allowed to be at large in the British islands, and fearing riots, fires, the spread of disease germs and poisoned water, hereby unanimously demand that the government take immediate steps to intern or deport all alien enemies, male or female, whatever their nationality, naturalized or otherwise."

This resolution immediately was telegraphed to Premier Asquith.

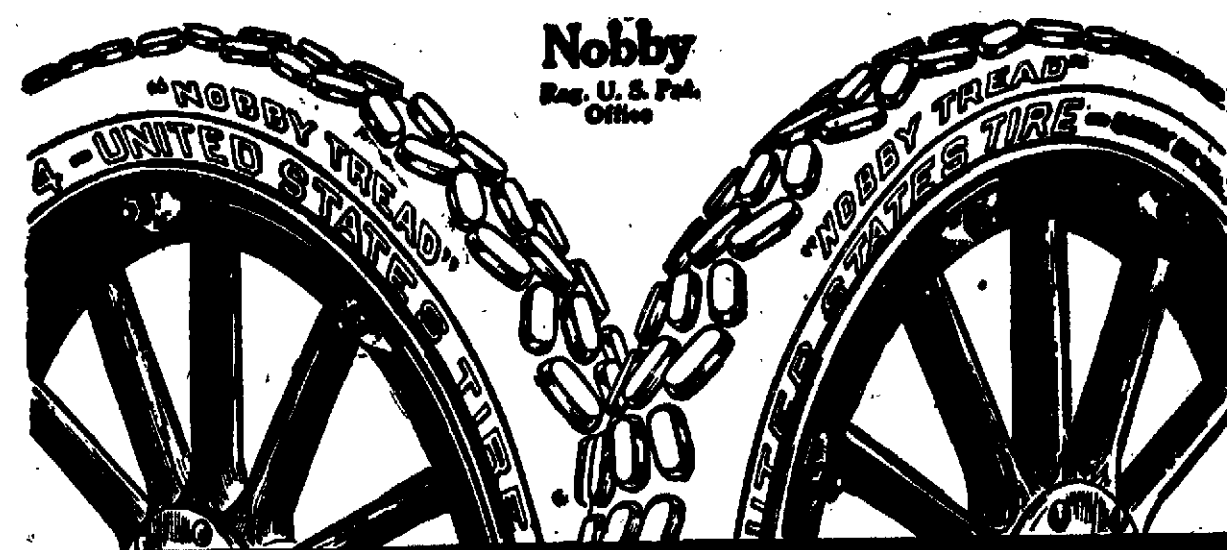

Sinclair Smith, chairman of the committee of the gathering for the internment of alien enemies, delivered a speech in which he warned the government that the temper of the people was such that unless the cabinet carried out the demands of the resolution the people would take the law into their own hands.

"We are not out to advocate revolution," said Mr. Smith, "but something must be done quickly to save the country."

The rioting in the vicinity of the custom house grew more violent as the day progressed. The mob got out of hand and wrecked and looted property on all sides. The least suspicion that it was owned by Germans. Gangs of women and boys followed the wreckers, the women wearing especially made aprons capable of carrying their booty, while the boys, trundled wheelbarrows loading them up with loot as they progressed. Whole sides of bacon were favorite trophies.

IRON TRADE REVIEW SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Cleveland, O., May 12.—The Iron Trade Review today says:

With the broadening of domestic demand accentuated by numerous inquiries for railroad equipment, the steel trade moves forward another lap in its march of improvement. Just at a time when a slight halt was noticeable in some finished lines, added impetus has been given industries by the announcement of these enormous requirements which will involve the placing of 20,000 steel cars, divided almost equally between eastern and central western lines. Large rail orders also are pending, including 8,000 tons for the Central Argentine railroad and 125,000 tons for the Pennsylvania. War orders that have played so conspicuous a part in recent satisfactory developments show no abatement in size or number. The Lackawanna Steel Co. will roll 20,000 tons of 45-pound rails and track fasteners for Russia and the American Locomotive Co. and the New York Air Brake Co. have made inquiries for 27,000 and 12,000 tons of steel bars, respectively, to fill similar contracts. In addition, the Cambria Steel Co. will furnish Russia with 20,000 car axles and an order for 25,000 to 30,000 car wheels has been received from one of the warring nations.

It is too early to gauge the effect of threatened international complications following the sinking of the Lusitania and several American vessels, although no hesitancy is yet apparent among buyers.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten-fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

SUCCESSFUL INSPECTION OF COUNCIL

Over 300 Masons Assembled at Temple to Witness Ceremonies—Fine Banquet Held.

Over 300 Masons assembled at the new Masonic Temple on Wednesday afternoon and evening when the annual inspection of Bigelow Council No. 7, including the Royal, Select and Super Excellent Masters was held by the Most Illustrious Past Grand Master Companion I. L. Oppenheimer. Following the work, a banquet was served, and over 80 visitors were present from out of the city.

The work commenced at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when the royal and select masters degrees were conferred on three candidates and the work was done in form, and District Lecturer Oppenheimer praised its excellence. The officers of Bigelow Council are:

T. I. M., B. F. Kent.
D. I. M., M. E. Montgomery.
P. C. W., F. L. Beggs.
Treas., C. L. V. Holtz.
Rec., Henry Pfeiffer.
C. of C., Cliff Hawkins.
C. of C., C. L. H. Long.
Steward, Hugh Oatman.
Sentinel, Henry Siegel.
Lecturer, Jas. R. Cooper.
Craftsmen: H. H. Harris, C. L. V. Holtz, Fred Woodcock, Ben M. Hendricks, Ralph Davis, L. F. Carl, W. D. Cunningham, Geo. W. Bourne, John F. Swisher, Sherman Baggs, Murray Connolly and Walter Bowers.

At 6 o'clock a banquet of attractive appointments was served, the menu consisting of turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, salad, pickles, olives, strawberries, cake and cigars. During the banquet hour, the Jackson orchestra furnished a delightful program.

Following the banquet at 7:30 o'clock the super excellent degree was given, and was the dramatic representation of the attack of the forces of Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, upon Jerusalem, and the attack upon Zedekiah, who was taken captive, with all his people. The first scene depicted the court of Zedekiah, who had just succeeded in making his escape, from prison, making his plea with Zedekiah in which he warns him of his impending doom and urges him to repent. While the prophet is talking the hosts of Nebuchadnezzar under the leadership of Nebuzaradan are battling at the gates of the city of Jerusalem. The concluding act shows the escape of Zedekiah from the Babylonian soldiers.

The second scene was laid in the Court of Nebuchadnezzar at Riblah and Nebuzaradan reports the capture of Zedekiah, who is brought into court and the sentence is imposed upon him of seeing his sons put to death, and he himself will be blinded for life. Zedekiah and his people are then taken to Babylon.

The third scene showed the captivity of Babylon. This concluded the work, and in the dramatization 85 characters took part. The inspector in commenting upon the work said that excellence of the presentation was surprising and that there was a wonderful display of talent in the city. He complimented the participants and said the work equaled that of any council in the state.

The costumes used in the dramatization were replicas of those worn in the ancient times and the scenic effects were unusually beautiful.

During the afternoon those candidates were initiated and 41 candidates in the evening.

The inspection proved a great success, and both the members of the banquet committee, Thomas Tabler, F. M. B. Windle, Roy Marvin, Hugh Oatman and George W. Bower, and the reception committee, L. P. Shaus, H. C. Bostwick, W. W. Neal, W. F. Upson, E. H. Franklin and William F. Smith, are to be complimented for their assistance in the making of the event so satisfactory.

IT HAPPENED IN NEWARK.

And Is Happening to Newark People Every Week.

The case told below is not an uncommon thing. The same occurs frequently and will continue to happen as long as folks have kidneys and overtax the kidneys.

Mrs. Julia Rost, 140 W. Main St., Newark, says: "About a year ago I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in the paper and as the symptoms I was suffering from were the same as those I had, I knew I was afflicted with kidney complaint. My back troubled me and if I did any sweeping or housework, I was liable to have sharp stitches across my loins. At night my back pained me and I was often troubled by dizziness, especially when I stooped over. Dark specks floated before my eyes and I had headaches. The kidney action was irregular. I took about two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they made my kidneys more normal and relieved the pains in my back."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Rost had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Shredded Wheat

It contains more nutriment, pound for pound, than meat or eggs, is more easily digested and cost much less. The best cure for liver and uric acid troubles is a meatless diet. Make Shredded Wheat your meat for ten days and see how much better you feel.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

ONE TOWNSHIP ASKS PRIMARY; TIME EXPIRES

But one township in Licking county will hold a primary election this summer. Mary Ann township Democrats, through Central Committee-man S. T. Coon, yesterday filed with the election board a petition asking for a Democratic primary. The time expired with Wednesday and no more petitions may now be filed.

In this connection Clerk Michael Sachs called attention to the fact that candidates wishing to file petitions for the municipal primaries this summer, must do so on or before June 1. According to the primary election laws, which require the signature of two per cent of the party vote cast at the last general election, all Democratic petitions must bear the names of 64 voters and Republican petitions must bear the names of 57 voters.

Talk of candidates for the municipal primaries is not so rare now as it was a few weeks ago. At that time there were numerous candidates "mentioned," some of whom denied that they were intending to circulate petitions. The next few weeks probably will bring out a number of petitions.

TRENCHES ARE FILLED WITH DEAD BODIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, May 13.—A Havas dispatch from Athens says:

"An allied fleet re-entered the Dardanelles last night and bombarded the forts at Kilid Bahr, Chanak Kalessi and Nagara. The bombardment was interrupted at 8 o'clock, but was resumed three hours later and is being continued."

"Although the Turks have been strongly reinforced, the bombardment from allied warships is causing them heavy losses and they are steadily losing ground. Turkish trenches are filled with bodies."

TOWNS ON LINE OF FLEET'S FIRE WERE DESTROYED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 13.—Assertions that the towns of Chanak Kalessi, Maitos and Kilid Bahr, now are nothing but smoking ruins, are contained in a series of belated dispatches dated May 5, 8 and 9, received by the Times from Moudros, on the Island of Lemnos. Their destruction is said to have been unavoidable, since they lay in the direct line of the fleet's fire.

The dispatches state that the forts in the Straits gradually are being overcome and it is believed a general assault is in progress against the heights of Aoli Baba, the capture of which is a necessary preliminary to a complete clearance of the Straits. There are persistent reports at Moudros that these heights have been taken and that the entire stretch of peninsula from Cape Helles to Kilid Bahr now is in the allies' hands.

It Takes Eight Months

If a Crown Piano were merely a piece of cabinet work it could be made in a few weeks. It takes eight months to build a Crown Piano because it is a musical instrument, adjusted and re-adjusted until it has the purity, volume and sweetness of tone that every Crown must have before the name goes on.

are in the hands of experts for months after the strings, hammers and keys are in place. Tone regulating is done by men unusually skilled, so that the quality and quantity of tone are perfect.

Every Crown Piano is at least seven times before leaving the factory. The strings are regulated and re-regulated by men who specialize in this art.

All the work is done on the surface, but means musical value—tone of the instrument is the result of the response to every touch—durability. The Crown Piano is a masterpiece of engineering and musical tests.

Send for our booklet. It explains why a Crown Piano is the best for the selection of an instrument for your home. There are no other real piano makers in the world. If you are sure to select a good piano, the price is FREE for the asking. Mail the coupon TODAY.

In Milady's Boudoir

BY GWEN SEARS.

The business girl has a larger account to settle with the goddess of Beauty and her hand-maiden Youth than the girl who stays at home. The busy luncheon, the neglected breakfast, the mad rush for the train in the early morning hours, the oft times, nights of sleeplessness, and long hours of sitting with feet in wet shoes, innumerable hours at the nerve-wrecking typewriter, are all against her. In fact, she has but a fighting chance of being beautiful.

The business girl should try to get at least eight hours of sound sleep every night. The tedious work before her is hardly an agreeable thought as she hastily dresses herself, with eyes half-closed in sleep. Even though she must sacrifice a few late parties it would count for more in the end to retain her health and beauty.

Don't carry lunch from home if you can possibly avoid it, but go out for it. Eat slowly as you do at home during dinner, and spend the remainder of your lunch hour taking a brisk walk. Most business girls lose their fresh clear coloring after a couple of years in an office and become almost sallow, because of lack of fresh air and exercise.

If you sit at a typewriter all day you must do everything possible to make conditions easier for your nerves, as you must remember that the ends of the fingers are the most sensitive portions of the body and you are striking them all day long. Always sit erect in your chair so that the end of the spine will be resting on the chair.

Take care of your health, Miss Business Girl, as it is your chief asset in success in your chosen work.

ROCKEFELLER WON VICTORY IN TAX SUIT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, May 13.—John D. Rockefeller, the millionaire Standard Oil magnate, today won an important victory in his fight to prevent the collection of taxes on $311,000,000 in personal property by Cuyahoga county, when Judge John H. Clarke in United States district court here, granted an injunction sought by Rockefeller to restrain the collection. The taxes sought to be obtained amounted to about $1,500,000, including a penalty of 50 per cent for failure to pay when due.

The assessment, which is held invalid, was made in February, 1914, when tax commissioners visited the Rockefeller summer home at Forest Hill here. They served papers on the oil king which alleged that he had remained in the county more than six months of the tax year and therefore under the Ohio law, was a resident of Ohio for taxation purposes.

Judge Clarke decided that Rockefeller's contention that he intended to leave Cleveland in October, 1913, instead of remaining here until February 2, 1914, due to the illness of Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister, Miss Lucy Spellman, was a valid excuse and did not make him an Ohio resident under the meaning of the law and that the intangible property named in the assessment consisting of stocks and bonds is located in New York which is the residence of the owner and not subject to taxation here.

The suit will be carried to the United States circuit court of appeals by the attorneys for Cuyahoga county and if the injunction is sustained, there, it may be carried to the United States supreme court.

WILSON NOTE

transmission by cable and through Rome and Vienna, he said, would occur late today.

Numerous communications, the secretary said, have reached the state department from citizens on the attitude this government should take. "The advice offered in these communications," said the secretary, "differs, but all conclude with expressions of support of the president of the United States."

At one o'clock this afternoon the note had been cleared over the telegraph wires from Washington and was started on its way over the under sea cables. It must go by way of Gibraltar and Malta and then to Rome and overland lines to Vienna and Berlin. As a courtesy a copy is to be delivered to Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador. Some time this evening the state department will give out copies for publication in tomorrow's newspapers in the United States.

PRES. WILSON IS PRAISED AT THE PEACE CONGRESS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, May 13.—Henry C. Clegg, the principal speaker at this morning's session of the World Court Congress, praised President Wilson's efforts in behalf of peace.

"While yielding to none in my lifelong devotion to the principles of the Republican party," he said, "due credit must be given the present administration for its accomplishments for the cause of peace. President Wilson has done noble work."

Mr. Clegg said he believed that universal peace, through the application of an international court of justice, would ultimately prevail.

"The United States, always in the vanguard of progress and enlightenment, will lead the nations onward to the ultimate goal," he declared.

Of the present war, Mr. Clegg said:

"After all is said as to the causes of the war, the fact remains that militarism was its predominating motive, and back of that was the personal ambition of certain rulers and their immediate following."

The address of Emerson McMillen, New York banker and capitalist, dealt with a tentative plan for the formation of the proposed court, based upon the population and commerce of the nations. Mr. McMillen predicted that in less than a generation after the inauguration of the international court, international law will assume a stability to which it has not hitherto attained.

"And in the court we propose," he said, "the sovereignty of every nation will be recognized. The small nation will stand on a footing level with that of the greatest."

"The European war has raised the demand for an international court to a world wide propaganda, organized and unorganized," said Danys P. Myers of Boston, a member of the board of directors of the world peace foundation, in an address following Mr. McMillen. "If that world cry can be resisted by governments, the judgment of many people is sadly at fault."

Two resolutions were presented to the congress this morning. One recommended for adoption by the congress of the United States a joint resolution inviting the nations to join with the United States in establishing at The Hague a court of nations and in providing for an international army and navy to protect the rights of nations.

The other provided that next The Hague conference be urged to provide penalty for the infraction of its conventions, or for a refusal to submit disputes to arbitration that a commercial embargo shall be declared against the offending nation by the other signatory nations.

The resolutions were referred to the resolutions committee.
Former President Tatt, left for Wilkesbarre, Pa., this morning.

CONCERT FOR BENEFIT OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

A fair-sized audience assembled in the High School auditorium on Wednesday evening to hear a program arranged by three artists brought to Newark by Mr. P. J. Fairall, who gave the concert assisted by the Newark Women's Federation of Clubs for the benefit of the Public Library. No admission was charged but a silver offering was taken and the sum of $21.57 was realized for the benefit of the Library as the entire amount was turned over to this institution.

The program was given by Mrs. R. E. Wells, violinist, of Cincinnati, Mr. Josef Adler, teacher of piano in Cincinnati and New York and Miss Mary Owen, of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. All gave their numbers in a delightful manner, interpreting the beautiful selections, most artistically, and especially was the audience enthusiastic in its reception of Mrs. Wells, violinist.

FAME IS SPREADING OVER THIS SECTION

FROM ALL PARTS COMES EVIDENCE OF GREAT INTEREST

Which Has Been Aroused by The Great Spiegel.

A Remarkable Demonstration Performed in Full View of the Large Audience Last Night.

These last few days have been busy days for the Great Spiegel and his assistants at his headquarters, Hotel Sherwood, where he can be consulted free of charge, if you have any disease you are unfamiliar with. Another large crowd greeted him at his free show last night and we judge from the business he is doing the Great Spiegel has "caught on" with the people of Newark.

It has been conceded by college professors and scientists in different parts of the world that the men of today who accomplish great things were men who were morally and physically clean. In that statement, said the Great Spiegel, they meant that their bodies and the organs they contained were in perfect condition and if they can keep the different organs of the body in good condition their will power is so strong that they can accomplish anything they undertake to do. This is not the case with persons whose systems are on the verge of a general breakdown, persons who are suffering with rheumatism, lumbago and nervous troubles. Persons who are afflicted with these diseases are generally in such a poor state of health and their brain is so weakened because the impoverished blood is not plentiful enough to nourish it, so that it is practically a blank so far as thinking is concerned.

A person's system is like a well regulated watch or engine, with the stomach as the engine room; each different organ is like a fly wheel and has its special functions to perform, and if one of these organs gets out of order and refuses to perform its duty, the work is divided among the other organs and they have just twice as much to do. The strain on the other organs is kept up until there is a general breakdown and the stomach refuses to bear the burden any longer. Then the whole system is thrown out of order. What is the result? A person's kidneys refuse to expel the uric acid from the system. This gets into the blood and causes rheumatism and lumbago. Then a person is stricken down right in the prime of life when if he had heeded nature's call for help and assisted the stomach and a little while, all this sickness and disease would have been avoided. In comparing the organs of the human body with a well regulated engine room the Great Spiegel said, if a person could only realize how much sickness and disease could be avoided if they would use a simple remedy like Dr. Jones' Sangvin to tone up the system and expel all poisons from the blood there would be many more healthy people. After the conclusion of this lecture last night the Great Spiegel issued a free invitation to any suherer in the audience to come forward and be relieved.

Mr. Fletcher Durham of 380 1/2 West Main street, suffering from deafness, came on platform, and after five minutes treatment in which the Great Spiegel applied his wonderful remedies and methods, remarked to the audience that "he never heard better in his life."

The Great Spiegel and his associate doctors can be seen daily at Sherwood Hotel, from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

The free show and band concert will start promptly at 7:30 tonight, corner Sixth and Main streets. Advertisement. 13-1t

18 INITIATED INTO FAMOUS TURTLE ORDER

Sixty-five members of Mt. Vernon Order of Turtles, No. 1, instituted a branch club in this city last evening, the work being given in Schaller's Hall in West Main street. Eighteen members were initiated, the work being put upon the floor in a manner highly successful and gratifying to all present.

The initiation was followed by a luncheon consisting of many good things and a social hour was devoted to songs and impromptu addresses. The Wishing Hour toast being given by Leonard Kelly, formerly of this city, now holding a splendid position in the executive offices of the Pennsylvania company at Mt. Vernon. BULLETIN NO. 22

Washington, D. C.
Editor of the Advocate:
We have just passed Harpers Ferry. It has rained constantly since we left Grafton, and all nature is beautiful. Growing crops, luxuriant foliage and blooming trees, shrubs and flowers—every thing is praising the good Father of Love.
I am off to the National Conference of Charities and Correction which opens today in Baltimore. I should have given you notice last evening but was not sure of coming until nearly noon and the many details of preparation kept me busy until my train left at 8:40.
I was most desirous that some of our members attend, but none could go and we had no fund available to send a delegate. It seemed imperative that we be represented, however, and a number of the generous friends of our association made up a purse to send the superintendent. I was eager to go and greatly appreciate the opportunity, but I value even more highly the support and co-operation which made the trip possible.

My office will be open on Saturday morning, 9 to 12, in charge of volunteers, sick and other emergency cases will be cared for by Mrs. W. C. Miller and garden work by Mrs. Henry Fleck, chairman of the garden committee.

Yours for a "Newark Beautiful,"
WM. E. HOPKINS,
Care of Y. M. C. A., Baltimore, Md.

WINDHOEK IS CAPTURED BY BOTHAS TROOPS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 13.—An official statement made public at Cape Town and received by the Reuter Telegram company, says that Windhoek, capital of German Southwest Africa, was captured yesterday without resistance by Union of South Africa forces under General Botha. The population of the town consists of 3,000 Europeans and 12,000 natives. General Botha's troops took a considerable quantity of railway rolling stock. Martial law has been proclaimed throughout the conquered territory.

General Botha, addressing his victorious troops, declared that the capture of the capital of German Southwest Africa was of the "utmost importance to the empire and the Union of South Africa, as it means practically complete possession of German Southwest Africa."

Continuing, the general dwelt upon the responsibility of the army of occupation to care for German women and children in Windhoek, saying in this connection:

"I rely on your honor to perform this responsible work well and faithfully."

Anno incement was made on April 26 that the forces of the Union of South Africa had occupied Keetmanshop, the most important town in German Southwest Africa next to the capital, thus obtaining command of the railroad leading to Windhoek.

A statement was issued at Cape Town on May 6, telling of the occupation of General Botha of Karibib after a forced march of 25 miles over a waterless waste. It was stated then that the early capture of Windhoek was expected.

criticism of the government now in power. People's spirits, he said, are naturally affected by the fall of Przemysl—an event which was inexcusable. The fortress itself was impregnable to assault. The military authorities, he said, must have known at the opening of the war that it would be impossible to hold Galicia against the Russian masses and that it would be necessary to fall back slowly through Galicia to the natural defensive frontier—the Carpathians.

Przemysl should have been provisioned for at least a year. Why it was not, said Count Apponyi, would be a subject for inquiry after the war.

Another mistake attributed by the count to the military authorities was underestimating the force which the Russians could throw into the field against Austro-Hungary at the beginning of the war. It had been thought that several months would pass before Russia could complete her mobilization to full strength and a large Austro-Hungarian army was detached for operations against Serbia on this assumption. Russia was found, however, to be already virtually on a war footing and ready to pour her armies into Galicia from the very first.

In view of this condition, said the count, the Austro-Hungarian leaders should have in the beginning followed the policy now adopted of leaving on the Serbia frontier a force only strong enough to protect the border against invasion and throwing against the Russians the whole strength of the army. In this case the Russians with their hundred divisions would not have been able to fall so overwhelmingly on the forty or so divisions of the Austro-Hungarian army.

Count Apponyi said he did not admit that Galicia had been lost to the dual monarchy. "We have already driven the Russians from Rakowina," he said, "way out from Galicia? But even taking the extreme case of the pessimists and granting that our armies are not able to drive the Russians back on Russian soil, I would hold out that the armies of Germany and Austro-Hungary are already in possession of several thousand square miles of Russian-Poland. The area of this, it is true, may not be quite as large as that of the parts of Galicia occupied by the Russians, but the position is greater. In rich, too, the parts of Russian-Poland occupied by us exceed Galicia. In addition, Germany holds virtually all of Belgium and northern France so there is no doubt that if the war should cease under present conditions we should get back Galicia."

The aim for which Germany and Austro-Hungary are fighting, the count thought, were already attained, for it would be many long years before any power or group of powers would venture to attack them again.

Talking of the sale of American munitions of war to the enemies of the Teutonic allies, the count said: "Sentiment in Austro-Hungary is not so intensely anti-American on this account as in Germany, but we feel that the war would soon be over if the United States would stop supplying artillery and ammunition to Russia. At the beginning of the war Russia had an immense superiority in artillery and great supplies of ammunition for it. Now she has lost so many cannon and has fired away so much ammunition that she is barely able to hold her own, and we feel that without help from America this would be impossible for her. We realize that formal right may be on the side of the United States in this question, but it is hard to talk of formal right to someone whose son, father or brother has been killed by an American bullet."
